

3 Midnight Stomp Series

Electric Slide; Midnight Serenade Pose I; Midnight Serenade Pose 2. This series was designed to express the joy of a celebration. Imagine birds having their private party in the moonlight, stomping and whooping and having a grand old time. One bird chooses the Electric Slide and the others choose a Midnight Serenade. Bronze. Pokey Park, Tucson, AZ. $44,000 for the group

6 Acrobat

Acrobats have an amazing ability to stretch the imagination of the viewer, along with their bodies. Inspired by Picasso, this acrobat causes us to reflect on the wonders of balance, movement, and perception. Bronze. Dr. Beth Erez, Herzliva, Israel. $15,000

9 Expecting

The shape of the big egg could represent the birth of everything, every relationship, and everyday life. The wavy four cracks are expressing that the time is coming close for you to see through and find whatever is waiting in your way. Western red cedar. Moriyuki Kono, Abbotsford, BC. $12,000

1 Whispering Bird

Inspired by prehistoric sculptures seen in the Louvre, this piece is part of a series using figures with human and animal characters. It explores the interconnections and interdependence of humans and the natural world. Mild steel. Marion-Lea Jamieson, Vancouver, BC. $5,400

4 Mountain Cherry Tree

This is my interpretation of what a very old cherry tree would look like, living in a mountain region, under harsh conditions. Iron, copper, Three Rivers Montana rock. Tony Hermanutz, Bellingham, WA. $30,000

7 Consciousness

This is a study of the connectivity of the elements of existence, both tangible and intangible. It reflects the juxtaposition of the mortal and the eternal, the visible as well as the unseen, transparent aspects of the human condition. Welded 9 gauge steel wire. Rebecca Kaplan, Berkeley, CA. $6,000

10 An Elated Incognito

Transforming angular geometry into dynamic configuration injects a hidden sublime appeal. Stainless steel. Yau Kuen Lau, Hong Kong. $80,000

2 Nurture

The soft-lined structure and solid/void contrast is a metaphor of the grace of a pregnant lady. Stainless steel. Yau Kuen Lau, Hong Kong. $50,000.

5 Joan of Arc

Historical, spiritual female leaders are often the subject of my work. While working with and changing the shape of the clay, at some point the piece takes on a life of its own. My goal is to allow its pure expression to come through without the interference of ego or will. In doing this, I feel connected to the person or entity I am imaging. Tenino sandstone, columnar basalt. Beth Kalina, Seattle, WA. $7,500

8 Diplomacy

Diplomacy, a tangled ball of wooden chairs, represents the efforts of negotiators, diplomats, educators, CEO's, and politicians as they work to establish peace and understanding. Wooden chairs, plywood base, other miscellaneous materials. Julie Lindell, Seattle, WA. $5,000

11 Battle on the Field

U 20 soccer players, battling for the ball. Created for the FIFA U2 International competition in Victoria BC. Bronze. Armando Barbon, Victoria, BC. $180,000

The Peace Arch State Park is committed to the principles of sustainability in the stewardship of the site's natural, cultural and recreational resources. Known globally as a symbol of Peace, the Arch and the Park represent peace, not only between countries and people, but also peace with the earth and the environment.

