

History | Art | Nature

The Peace Arch International Sculpture Exhibition is presented by the International Peace Arch Association (IPAA), in cooperation with Washington State Parks. The IPAA is a nonprofit organization dedicated to the heritage and preservation of the International Peace Arch and Park.

Exhibition Sponsors

We sincerely thank all our sponsors, volunteers, and artists for their contributions and support.

International Peace Arch Association is a COVID CARES ARTS GRANT RECIPIENT

Things to remember...

1. Keep pets on leashes at all times.
2. Please use receptacles for litter.
3. Flowers, trees, and shrubs are a part of the park; please leave them as you found them.
4. For your own safety, do not touch or climb on the sculptures.
5. Always use the crosswalks when visiting the International Park.
6. While you do not need to formally go through customs to visit the park, it is always recommended you carry proper ID.
7. Visitors must clearly display their Parking Pass in their front windshield or face a citation or a $99 fine.

LOCATION

Peace Arch International Parks are located 21 miles north of Bellingham, Washington, and 30 miles south of Vancouver, BC, on the USA Canada border between Douglas, BC, and Blaine, WA. The parks are managed and maintained by Washington State Parks and British Columbia Parks.

Washington State Parks requires state residents and visitors to purchase a Discover Pass (vehicle pass) to visit Peace Arch State Park. The Discover Pass fee is $10.00 (single day use) or $30 for an annual pass good at all Washington State Parks. Complete Discover Pass information and a parking payment station is posted at the main park kiosk.

COVID-19 ALERT: As you visit the state park and the exhibit, keep in mind 6 feet social distancing measures set by Washington State Department of Health.

Twenty-Fourth Annual Peace Arch Park International Sculpture Exhibition

May 1st to October 1st, 2021

A Self-Guided Tour

"Fun Times"

Shirley Erickson, Bellingham, WA

International Peace Arch Association
P.O. Box 2564, Blaine, WA 98231-2564
360-332-7165 info@peacearchpark.org

The Int. Peace Arch Association is an IRS approved nonprofit charitable organization. Donations to the IPAA are tax-deductible in the United States.

PEACEARCHPARK.ORG

Presented by the
International Peace Arch Association
OPEN DAILY 8 am to Dusk

Welcome to the annual International Sculpture Exhibition in Peace Arch Historical State Park.

Nestled within the natural scenery and magnificent gardens are a variety of sculpture created by American & Canadian fine artists.

1 Wish to Fly

The "Wish to Fly" sculpture is a language born in the space between the words. The more we talk the less we hear it.

Media: aluminum.
Serge Mozhnevsky,
Coquitlam, BC

2 Fun Times

We all need to have fun. But sometimes we must put on our armor to protect ourselves from others.

Media: mixed media, found objects.
Shirley Erickson,
Bellingham WA

3 Pack of Dogs

Making simulated balloon dogs from expired fire extinguishers has long been my favorite artwork in creating pop art from recycled materials. For years I have created all sizes, shapes and colours of balloon dogs. Media: recycled stainless steel fire extinguishers. Ron Simmer, Burnaby, BC

4 First Bonsai

This Contorted Scrub Oak is my interpretation of the first contorted, stunted tree hanging on the side of a mountain being viewed by someone who later created what people now call Bonsai. Media: stainless steel, copper, ceramic and a siper cut quarry boulder. Tony Hermanutz, Bellingham, WA

5 Le Grand Cri

Abstract form suggesting united forces, upward to a heavenly cry.

Media: bronze. Jean-Guy Dalliare, Vancouver, BC

6 Fashionably Attired

We hope that in the near future a viewer can have only a vague memory of why that guy would be wearing a mask.

Media: concrete & steel,
David Sibiga, Blaine, WA

7 Winged Watcher

Hopefully someone good is watching over us all.

Media: Steel & Glass.
Shirley Erickson,
Bellingham WA.

8 Harmony

Friends, acquaintances, and colleagues unite in cooperation blending and shining in fruitful endeavors of joy and peace.

Media: fabricated stainless steel.
J. F. Spear, Oakland, CA

